

CityU Nonprofit Leadership Program

Ready to grow your nonprofit team to be a powerhouse fundraising machine? The School of Applied Leadership offers a 10-module training course designed to enhance the leadership and management skills of nonprofit professionals. Designed in collaboration with the Sanford Institute of Philanthropy at City University of Seattle, the curriculum is designed by nonprofit professionals, for nonprofit professionals, and blends best practices from both the business and nonprofit sectors.

THROUGHOUT THE PROGRAM, YOU WILL LEARN TO:

- Understand current challenges and future trends of nonprofit leadership
- Recognize the role and importance of internal and external stakeholders
- Discover key aspects of nonprofit financial management

GAIN THE SKILLS TO FILL THE NONPROFIT LEADERSHIP GAP

Demand is growing faster than our nonprofit organizations can meet and many organizations think leadership development is too expensive. The School of Applied Leadership has an affordable way for you to gain the training you need.

ENSURE THAT YOUR ORGANIZATION ACHIEVES ITS POTENTIAL IMPACT

This 10-module nonprofit leadership course is a self-paced opportunity to delve deeper in issues facing today's nonprofit sector. Each module is organized to provide a brief overview of content, focused learning outcomes, and additional relevant resources such as videos and articles.

COURSE DETAILS

- Online and self-paced: Anticipate spending a minimum of 2 hours per module.
- Guided self-reflection: At the end of each module, you will respond to journal prompts and provide a minimum of 300 words per entry.
- Costs: Tuition for the course is only $335, which includes all instructional materials.

LEARN MORE

1.888.422.4898

Please contact Libbie Stellas at lstellas@CityU.edu