PART D

Please review the following policies and procedures.

Notice of Non-Discriminatory Policy

City University of Seattle subscribes to the principles and laws of the state of Washington and the federal government, including applicable Executive Orders that pertain to civil rights, equal opportunity and affirmative action. City University of Seattle policy prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, sex, including sexual harassment, religion, age, color, creed, national or ethnic origin, physical, mental or sensory disability, marital status, sexual orientation, and status as a Vietnamera or disabled veteran in the recruitment and admission of students of any race, the recruitment, employment and retention of faculty and staff, and the operation of all University programs, scholarships, loans, activities and services. Evidence of practices that are inconsistent with this policy should be reported to the Affirmative Action Coordinator in the office of Human Resources — 11900 NE First Street, Bellevue, Washington 98005 (425) 637-1010. City University of Seattle is accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities, 8060 165th Ave. NE, Suite 100, Redmond, WA 98052, and an EO institution.

Substance Abuse Policy

The goal of City University of Seattle's substance abuse policy is to ensure that the University and all its locations are free of illegal drug use, alcohol abuse or illegal drug activity. All City University of Seattle employees, faculty, staff and students will be provided with a complete copy of this policy. From time to time, drug-related educational materials and programs will be offered to enhance your awareness of the facts about alcohol abuse, as well as illegal drugs and the consequences of their use. Materials and programs also will describe the alternatives available to you in the event that you are or may become involved with drugs and feel the need for professional assistance. The University's typical response to voluntary requests for assistance is summarized in the policy. The policy's legal basis is the Federal Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988, and Drug-Free School and Communities Act-Higher Education, Drug-Free Schools and Campuses, August 16, 1990. These laws and this policy apply to all City University of Seattle employees, faculty, staff and students, full-time, part-time and oncall. City University of Seattle is required by strict mandate of the Department of Education to implement and enforce these regulations.

Grievance Procedure

The Student, Staff and Faculty Grievance Procedure is designed to provide an effective/ acceptable means for persons to bring equal opportunity /non discrimination, disciplinary or any conduct-related problems and complaints to City University of Seattle's attention. This procedure enables students, staff and faculty to file a grievance without fear of retribution or prejudice, and to help identify and eliminate legitimate causes for dissatisfaction. This procedure is separate from and applies to all issues other than grades. The grade grievance procedure is and remains as defined in the catalog and faculty handbook.

Grievance filing process:

1. The aggrieved party contacts the Affirmative Action Coordinator (AAC) as soon as a problem is recognized;
2. The aggrieved party and the AAC, together, prepare a careful and correct grievance form;
3. The AAC conducts an investigation and prepares a report of findings;
4. The AAC reviews the report findings with the Vice President for Human Resources who, in turn reviews them with the aggrieved party's department head and the university's Executive Management Group;
5. Within ten days, the outcome of these reviews will be shared with the aggrieved party;
6. In the event of any apparently irreconcilable conflict, a three-person board, comprising non-involved management, supervisory and peer group, will be appointed to review the grievance and attempt conciliation. Their written recommendation, of which the aggrieved party will receive a copy, will be prepared within ten additional working days, for review by the president of the university;
7. When the appropriate action has been determined, all parties involved will be informed of the decision in writing, and finally a follow-up procedure will be developed to ensure that the agreed upon action is carried out.

Documentation of all proceedings will be held in strictest confidence and maintained in a confidential file. It is the responsibility of all City University of Seattle employees to refer any student grievance to the Affirmative Action Coordinator and to comply with this procedure regulations.
